

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XX.

STANFORD, KY., TUESDAY, AUGUST 2, 1892.

NO. 45

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—Catholic services were held in the county court room Sunday.

—Rice Benge has a handsome new wagon to be used between here and Stanford.

—The union services next Sunday night will be held at the Baptist church conducted by Rev. Hill.

—The Rowland base ball club came over Friday and defeated the home nine in a couple of games.

—A coon picnic was given at the fair grounds Saturday. The Springfield band furnished the music for the occasion.

—A German will be given by the hop club to-night in the room over the Record office. An excellent time is anticipated.

—Judge Hemphill has joined the band and ordered a bass horn of the Helicon pattern. The Helicon and slide trombone are instruments very seldom seen in a county band.

—H. T. Logan is at home from his trip through the South. Miss Fannie Collier has returned to her home in Louisville. A. H. Rice, of Paducah, is here on a visit. Capt. T. W. Olds has been quite sick for several days. Uncle Dave Arnold spent Sunday with his son, W. A. Arnold.

—The people near Bryantsville were blessed with a fine rain last week, which extended to within a mile and a half of Lancaster. The heat for the last week has been intensely oppressive and it has been impossible to keep cool either day or night.

—Oh, for a lodge in some vast wilderness, Some boundless continuity of shade.

—The county officials are worrying over the new election law. After divers persons they have come to the conclusion that it is about as clear as mud, and the more you study it the less you know about it. Some of those who voted for the new constitution say they regret it, in view of the trouble and expense necessary to carrying out its many complicated provisions.

Longfellow, in Evangeline, has this beautiful suggestion:

"The trumpet flower and the grape vine Hung their ladder of ropes aloft like the ladder of Jacob, On whose pendulous stairs the angels ascended. Were the swift humming-birds, that flitted descending from blossom to blossom."

It is suggested that when called upon for the reasons that caused the commissioners to the Columbian Exposition to adopt the trumpet flower as Kentucky's favorite, the handsomest one of the lady commissioners might be selected to commit to memory the choice words of the poet and repeat them for the pleasure of the inquisitive public.

LIBERTY, CASEY COUNTY.

—The Hon. D. G. Colson will speak here on August 6.

—George Statham had a bright little daughter to die last week.

—George E. Stone has returned from a few days' trip to Louisville.

—The public school has opened here, with James H. Thomas as teacher.

—Absence for about a week at the bedside of a sick son is our excuse for failing to contribute to the last week's issues of the JOURNAL.

—M. K. Humphrey started a few days since to the Indianapolis Surgical Institute for treatment of his lame leg, which was injured some time since.

—Elijah Coffey, after a month's absence at Hot Springs, Ark., has returned. Miss Lizzie Jones, of Somerset, is now on a visit to her cousin, Mrs. Dr. McRoberts.

—License was issued last week to Mr. V. T. Wilson, of Russell county, to marry Miss Anna Roy, of this county, and Judge Wm. Myers in the county clerk's office united Mr. Simon Wheat to Miss Mary Stanfill.

—For the apparently liberal fee of $100 George E. Stone has undertaken to teach Dick Gibony how to vote in accordance with the new election law. This is to be done in time for him to vote in the coming November election. Since commencing operations George has concluded that he has a very difficult task to perform and thinks he is liable to make a total failure.

DANVILLE.

—Mr. M. C. Thurman and little daughter, Lena, are here from Morristown, Tenn., and on a visit to their old home.

—Messrs. Breckinridge, Sanfley and Noel, candidates for circuit judge, spoke at Dixville, Mercer county, to-day, Monday.

—A few days ago near Parksville Joe Turner received a pitchfork wound in hand which gave him lockjaw. For two days his condition was very serious.

—Mr. W. T. Scott writes from Birmingham, Ala., that his brother, Arthur, whom he went to see and who has been very ill of fever, is somewhat better.

—Charles Taylor and Mattie Tharpe, colored, of the "persimmon orchard" neighborhood, were married in the county clerk's office Saturday evening by Rev. G. H. Burk, of the colored Methodist church.

—A citizen of Danville who has in the last two years received a good many circulars and "green goods" clippings, and has always been told to telegraph replies and not to write, has recently received permission to write to the "dealers." It is the same old sucker they are after only the bait is changed. Instructions are given to write to Louis Gillen, Flushing, Owens Co., N. Y.

—Samuel Wade, colored, for a breach of the peace was fined $20; Will Thomas, petit larceny, 60 days in the workhouse; Bob Perry, petit larceny, 60 days in the workhouse; all the latter also colored. They were tried before Judge McFerran Monday morning. Wade was drunk and raised a row beyond the town limits not far from the depot, Thomas stole $5 from Gib Doran and Perry stole meat from the smoke-house of A. E. Hundley.

—Mr. J. Talbot Jackson, a student of Central University, and winner in several oratorical contests, is here on a visit to his aunt, Mrs. Alex Anderson, his uncle, C. S. Jackson, and other relatives. Lucien Nelson, Hart Goodloe and John Craig are spending a few days at Camp Harrison, a popular and fashionable summer resort northeast of town. Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Hume, of Silver Creek, are guests of Miss Mamie McRoberts. Miss Phillips, of Louisville, and Miss Higgins, of Richmond, are visiting Miss Sue McRoberts.

NOSBODY KNOWS BUT MOTHER.

From Dear Kate's Scrap-Book, and Published in Affectionate Remembrance of Her.

Nobody knows of the work it makes

To keep the home together;

Nobody knows of the steps it takes,

Nobody knows but mother.

Nobody listens to the childish woes

Which kisses only smother;

Nobody's pained by naughty blows,

Nobody, only mother.

Nobody knows of the sleepless care

Bestowed on baby brother;

Nobody knows of the tender prayer,

Nobody, only mother.

Nobody knows of the lessons taught

Of loving one another;

Nobody knows of the patience sought,

Nobody, only mother.

Nobody knows of the anxious fears

Lest darlings may not weather

The storm of life in after years,

Nobody knows—but mother.

Nobody kneels at the throne above

To thank the Heavenly Father,

For that sweet gift—a mother's love,

Nobody can—but mother.

—Down in Caldwell county Mrs. Wilson died of consumption. Her husband was sick at the time, but he got out of bed, shaved himself and said he would die before noon next day. He then sent the sexton word to dig a double grave. He died at the appointed hour and the two united in life in death were not divided as they were lain away in the same grave.

—William Joyce, a farmer living near Pleasure Ridge Park, was shot and probably fatally wounded by his son John. This rec'd a remarkable tragedy. In 1858 the wounded man's mother, sister and brother were butchered by six negroes. One of the negroes turned State's evidence, but as his story was not sufficiently corroborated the jury acquitted them. The whole gang were then lynched, five being hung in the court-house yard and the throat of the other cut at the jail door.

—Miss Henrietta Green of New York, has brought suit against R. L. Harman for $50,000 for breach of promise of marriage. She avers that she was engaged to him and having implicit confidence in his honor, she accepted his invitation to go to the Hotel Royal and spend the night, owing to the lateness of the breaking up of the ball to which he had taken her. That huge assignation house was crowded and they had to occupy the same room, with him on the sofa and she in the bed. The fire broke out and he jumped from the window and escaped unhurt, while she had her legs and arm broken. She will find it, we opine, a rather difficult job to convince a jury as to their relative positions that night and it will be late before she comes into possession of the $50,000 she claims.

HUSTONVILLE.

—The corn crop will be cut short by the continued drouth in this section.

—J. B. Cook writes that there about 100 guests at that famous summer resort —Cumberland Falls.

—Our jail is completed and Marshal Taylor is very anxious to get some one behind the bars.

—The candidates for circuit judge spoke to a very good crowd here Saturday evening. Judge Sanfley seems to have the lead in this precinct.

—The younger boys of town are organizing a brass band and say if they can get the help of the citizens of this section they will have a band here the people will be proud of. The band will be composed of some of the best talent in the country. We hope the boys will succeed in their undertaking.

—After cutting and shocking his oats, Bob Whitis, living in the vicinity of Kidd's Store some of the bundles. Taking his shot gun he watched his oat field to see how the oats were disappearing. He did not have long to wait before one Tom Price was seen going out of the field with a load of grain. Whitis said it made him so mad he could do nothing but give the fellow a good tongue lashing. Why didn't he use his gun?

—Miss Bianch Twidwell returned from Cumberland Falls Friday. Tilden Cook is at Cumberland Falls playing bass violin in the band. Felix Twidwell got ducked with the trunks that were overturned. Mr. Homer Oldson and wife, of Paris, arrived Sunday to visit the family of W. B. Williams. Mary D., little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Kennedy, is improving. Boyle Read and family are visiting here. Hugh Logan, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Adams, of Longview, Ala., is very low at the home of Mrs. A. A. father, W. D. Weatherford returned from the Falls Sunday. Mr. T. T. Blanford and wife, of St. Mary's, are visiting the family of F. M. Yowell. Mrs. Polly Kaufman is in a critical condition. Miss Kate Cook has secured the public school here.

LONDON, LAUREL COUNTY.

—The institute is over and all the teachers have gone home, after a week of pleasure.

—The infant of Tom Leak, after several weeks' illness, died Thursday and was buried Friday.

—An ice cream supper was given in the Catching block Friday night for the benefit of the Kindergarten.

—Several attended Colson's speaking at the Bernstadt colony last Saturday, and all agree that his speech was fair and his beer superb.

—Misses Beulah Phiergo, of Chicago, and Noncarle Phiergo, of Stanford, are visiting their sister Mary at G. W. Farris'. Charley Norris and family, of Paint Lick, passed through Friday from a visit of three weeks to Clear Creek Springs.

—NAMED.—Some time ago we mentioned the arrival in the family of Jacob Seigrist, a Swiss democrat, of Bernstadt colony in Laurel county, of triplets and the fact that he had asked Gov. Brown to name the trio—two boys and a girl. Saturday's Frankfort Capital says that the Governor has named the boys Wilbur Browder, in honor of the well-known Southern Kentucky scholar and lawyer, and Thomas Crittenden, in honor of the ex-governor of Mo., who was his classmate at Centre College, while the little girl is to be called Virginia Singleton, after the Governor's charming daughter. A purse of $40 was made up among the officers on the Square and sent to the father, with the hope that the little ones might grow up honorable and useful citizens of the old Commonwealth.

MIDDLEBURG, CASEY COUNTY.

—Quite a crowd attended the picnic on Carpenter's Creek Saturday.

—Doctors report a vast amount of sickness in this vicinity and are on duty day and night.

—Doc Hurst and Mr. Herman, of Boyle and Mercer counties, are here in the interest of the lightning rod business and have made many sales. Their work has proven very satisfactory.

—T. M. Hopper, the band boys' teacher leaves Monday for Rolling Fork where he will teach another class. Tom's untiring efforts here proved him a good man for the business.

—We are requested to say that in regard to the report on Mr. G. W. Sweeney leaving here and also leaving a mortgage on his farm which he sold is all bosh. Mr. John S. Coulter is the man who held the mortgage and he says Mr. Sweeney paid it off in due time and every thing is square.

—To the Democrats of Laurel County: Pursuant to a call of the chairman of the first appellate district, the democrats of Laurel county are hereby requested to meet in mass convention at the court-house in London, Saturday, Aug. 13, at 2 o'clock P. M. for the purpose of selecting delegates to attend a convention to be held at Catlettsburg Aug. 18, to nominate a judge for the Court of Appeals.

JOHN PEARL, Ch'n Co. Com.
W. J. LITTON, Sec'y.

GEN. WILLIAM J. LANDRAM.

A Soldier of Two Wars and a Useful Citizen in Peace.

Gen. Landram was born in Lancaster, Ky., February 11, 1828, where he received his education. His father, Louis Landram, who resided several years in Stanford, was a Virginian. At the age of 18 the general enlisted as a private in company A, commanded by Capt. Johnson Price, in the 1st regiment Kentucky cavalry, commanded by Col. Humphrey Marshall, and was soon promoted to the position of orderly sergeant, which he filled to the expiration of his term of service. He took part in the famous battle of Buena Vista and in the hand-to-hand encounter with Torrejon's Lancers at the rancho received a saber cut across the left shoulder. Shortly after his return from Mexico he resumed his position as deputy clerk and was afterwards elected clerk of the Garrard circuit court without opposition. He was at one time clerk of both circuit and county courts. He acted as deputy sheriff one year and also edited and published the "Garrard Banner," a whig journal of that day. In 1849 he voted for Mr. Clay's scheme of gradual emancipation, and on the breaking out of the war took the side of Union. He was made colonel of the 1st Kentucky cavalry by Gen. Wm. Nelson; assisted in raising that regiment and afterwards turned it over to Col. Frank Wolford and raised the 19th infantry at Harrodsburg, two companies of which were furnished by Lincoln county. In the official records of the war of the rebellion, copies of which are in the possession of Judge Sanfley, favorable mention is made of the services of Gen. Landram 20 times in connection with the Vicksburg campaign and 20 times in connection with the Red River campaign. In the History of the Civil War in America, by the Comte de Paris, the conduct of Gen. Landram is highly commended, and the personal memoirs of Gen. Grant, Sherman and Sheridan contain like references to his services. He commanded a brigade of six regiments at Vicksburg and a division of 12 regiments at Jackson and in Louisiana.

He was chairman of the Republican State Central Committee of Kentucky during the Hayes and Harrison campaigns and in the latter Harrison received 155,000 votes, which is the largest vote ever cast for the republican party in Kentucky. He has done much literary work for various journals and has given much of his time to music—his songs, instrumental pieces for the piano and bands having been extensively published in New York, Cincinnati, Louisville, New Orleans and elsewhere.

His license as a lawyer is dated Nov. 18, 1851, and is signed by John L. Bridge and Green Adams, who were judges of the circuit court at that time.

Gen. Landram married Miss Sarah Walker, a daughter of William Walker, a highly respected citizen, and has five children living, viz: Mrs. R. A. Burnside, Mrs. W. C. McFarland, Mrs. W. G. Dunlap, Louis Landram, correspondent of the INTERIOR JOURNAL, and Miss Katie Landram. He is now 64 years of age and practicing his profession in his native town.

The above is but a mere outline of incidents of the busy life of Gen. Landram, who in every station in life that he has filled has demonstrated that to act well your part, there all the honors. A fighter in war and a peaceful, law-abiding man after hostilities ceased, he deserves the highest tribute of his fellow citizens. As a soldier, civilian and scholar, he has left his impress on the country and made the world better for his having lived in it. May he continue to live long and prosper.

W. P. WALTON.

The case of H. Clay King, who murdered Col. Poston in cold blood at Memphis, and who is sentenced to be hung August 12, continues to excite the people of Tennessee. The Court of Appeals having decided against his petition for a new trial, before which he, being a lawyer, made the leading argument, a petition for a writ of habeas corpus and also the right of appeal were heard before Judge Jackson, of the U. S. circuit court, and denied. His attorneys will now try to get the matter before the U. S. supreme court and failing in that, will seek executive clemency. This case is one of the saddest on record, though Col. King does not deserve the sympathy that is wasted on him. With ability, a large fortune and a lovely family, he sacrificed all for illicit love and kept on the downward road till he became a desperate and cowardly murderer, shooting down in court the man who as counsel was only giving his client the benefit of the law. King deserves the ignominious death a brave jury has said he should die, and if the sentence be carried out it will be a signal vindication of the law by proving that punishment is not solely for the poor and friendless. King has made his bed hard and the courts and governor should allow him to lie on it, although he is now feigning insanity to defeat the ends of justice.

The House committee on agriculture has reported on the effect of the existing tariff laws on agriculture and it shows that the prices of wheat, corn, hay, wool, hogs and beef have declined and the prices of groceries, shoes, hats, hardware and clothing have advanced during the past year. The farmer will very naturally seek to find where the benefits of the McKinley law comes in, with the absolute certainty of discovering that they do not go his way. In truth that law was not intended to benefit the farmer and the laborer, but such men as Carnegie and others, who are enabled to make dollars by it almost as fast as one can count. In his masterly speech Friday Senator Carlisle showed that in 15 general occupations in unprotected industries, the average rate of wages has increased, and the same number of highly protected industries, wages have decreased. Down with the robber tariff, which enriches the few at the expense of the many, simply to enable that few to be more liberal in their campaign contributions, to perpetuate republican rule and raciality.

ALDERMAN DROEGE created a sensation at Covington by making a statement before the body that Hon. Harvey Myers had offered him $2,000 to vote in the interest of a certain street railway, which he afterwards declined. Mr. Myers claims that Drooge proposed the sell out himself and that he only gave him bait to see how much he would swallow. The two men have been deadly enemies, growing out of the legislative race between them. The general opinion seems to be that Drooge set a trap for Myers, that Myers saw the trap and baited it for Drooge, and the latter, having his suspicions aroused, made an effort to save himself by his public avowal. The whole matter has a nasty look and neither of the men will enjoy further public confidence, unless the whole thing is cleared up. In any event, one or the other must go down as the result of the dirty business.

EDITOR HOWELL, of the Atlanta Constitution, who fought Cleveland and boomed Hill in season and out of season and got most ingloriously left even in his own State, has written a letter to the ex-president, pledging Georgia's electoral vote to him and promising his own unswerving support. Mr. Cleveland answered in a characteristic letter, and so the editor is happy again. He discovered some time ago that he was not so big a man as he imagined himself and the taking down of a button or two has made a better man of him.

The republican papers in Wilson's district are trying to ruin his chances for re-election by publishing the message he sent to C. F. Burnam, in which he said: "The nomination of Harrison means defeat." This ought not certainly to hurt John Henry. It simply shows that he is a man of animosity and of more general understanding in his neighborhood than those who profess to believe to the contrary.

The Legislature is evidently determined to stay at Frankfort till the outraged people march on the town with muskets and cannon and drive the per diem filchers home. As evidence of their determination it may be stated that a bill was on Saturday last made the special order for Dec. 1.

CHAIRMAN HARRITY has appointed his committees. Thomas H. Sherley, of Louisville, is a member of the executive, of which Mr. Harrity is by virtue of his office chairman. It is said Gov. Campbell will be made chairman of the campaign committee.

C. R. Breckinridge has been re-nominated in the 2d Arkansas district.

"The republicans may lose the Senate." This is the despairing cry that comes from Washington. The fact that they are likely to do so is a welcome one to the people. An exchange states the situation as follows: There are 47 republicans, 39 democrats and two independents in the present Senate. Twenty-six vacancies will be filled in the next Senate. Should the republicans lose four they will lose control of the body. Should the democrats gain six they will have control of it. There are nine republican Senators whose terms expire, and it is extremely doubtful whether a single one of them will be succeeded by a republican. They are Felton, of California; Hawley, Connecticut; Perkins, Kansas; Dawes, Massachusetts; Stockbridge, Michigan; Davis, Minnesota; Sanders, Montana; Hisecock, New York, and Sawyer, of Wisconsin. The Senate needs to be reformed out of the billion-dollar rut.

EX-GOV. NICHOLLS, of Louisiana, the man who first had the courage to attack the lottery and recommend the repeal of its privileges, has been appointed chief justice of the State. He is a graduate of West Point and was a general in the Confederate army, in which he lost an arm and leg, but as a half man he is equal to several whole ones, and is noted for his courage, common sense and honesty.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

The bill to prevent barbers from working on Sundays was laid to sleep in the House.

The Conference report on the revenue bill has been adopted by both Houses, but the governor is expected to veto the miserable thing for a number of reasons.

Mr. Tribble's bill to disqualify turnpike officials, surveyors, owners of grist mills, tavern keepers and saloon keepers from serving on grand juries was unfavorably reported by the committee and refused its second reading in the House.

My sincere thanks are due and are hereby tendered to the people, white and black, who worked so manfully to save my property. D. W. Vandever.

THE Nicholasville base ball team has been dropped from the League because of its refusal to dispense with an undesirable umpire at Danville's request last Tuesday and the forfeiture of the game to Nicholasville by the umpire.

My stock of undertaker's goods were entirely burned. There is not a coffin or a casket in town. I need the money to buy them. Please call and settle your account. Mack Huffman, at warehouse foot of Lancaster street.

Our enterprising barber, Jesse Thompson, has fitted up a nice bath room in connection with his tonsorial parlors and will be ready to serve the public with cool and refreshing baths as soon as the water works get into operation. Jesse keeps astride with the time and is a colored citizen of whom Stanford is justly proud.

J. M. RAIS, of Lebanon, has entered suit against the Middlesboro Town Co., the American Association, &c., to recover the amount he paid as first installment for lots purchased in the Magic City. He says his purchases were based on promises of the companies that the place should be made a city and that many big enterprises would be located there, none of which have been fulfilled. On this account he claims that on their part the transaction was fraudulent and he wants his money back.

For a town which claims to enforce prohibition, Lancaster sees more snakes than any of its size in the country. Another blood-curdling story appears in Saturday's Cincinnati Enquirer, which gives an account of a duel between "Col." Letcher Owsley's Newfoundland dog and a huge snake, in which both were killed and the colonel bit in the hat by the venomous monster. The writer had evidently been imbibing a very mean quality of moonshine, such as is usually sold in the back alleys of no license towns.

WM. WEATHERFORD, the Casey county man who forged a check for $150 and got it cashed at a Lebanon bank, pleaded guilty and was, says the Enterprise, given two years in the penitentiary. His downfall it seems is due to an advertisement he saw in a Cincinnati paper, in which he was offered a controlling interest in a show that was making money in a "whoop" for the small sum of $150. Not having the money he resorted to forgery and after getting it, he went to Cincinnati to make a deal with the show people. He did so, they getting the money and he the penitentiary.

THE proprietor of the INTERIOR JOURNAL has suffered from four fires since he came to Stanford, but fortunately not seriously. A number of years ago his residence caught fire on the roof, but was extinguished and the insurance company repaired the damages. The printing office caught fire once and was also put out before much damage was done, and the London & Liverpool & Globe made it as good as new. When the big fire in March, '84, swept the most of the block away, the heavy fire walls of the INTERIOR JOURNAL building stopped the progress of the fire and again the insurance companies repaired the several hundred dollars' damage done to the walls and by the removal of material. The other night the thick fire walls of Walton's Opera House again stopped the fire and left it the only building on the square. It was insured and the Royal, Barbee & Castleman's crack company, will adjust the damages, which will be light, unless the wall, which is badly cracked and sprung from the intense heat and powder explosions, has to be rebuilt. Our advice to everybody is to keep your property insured, use every precaution against fire and when it comes don't get excited and ruin as many things in trying to save them as the flames would destroy.

FOR RENT.—Office in INTERIOR JOURNAL building. Apply to W. P. Walton.

It seems that we were mistaken in the way Ed Jones broke the muscles of his arm. The young lady who went driving him that evening tells a different tale at any rate.

W. F. RAMSEY is playing in luck. He has 250,000 brick ready for the builders and is preparing to burn another kiln. His prices are $8 for hard and $6 for soft per thousand delivered.

THE Danville Fair, one of the very best in Kentucky, will begin to-day and last till Friday inclusive. Of course nearly everybody from this county will attend at least one day of the term.

SHAVING CASE with 6 or 8 razors and two brushes in tortoise shell, covered with Morocco leather and lined with red silk were lost the night of the fire. Finder please return to Mack Huffman.

THE trains have been out of shape for several days. No. 26 had to be pulled in by a "hog" Sunday and Sunday's mail train was five hours late, owing to a freight car getting off the track in a tunnel.

PROF. R. G. WELLS will lecture at the colored Methodist church Tuesday and Wednesday nights and at the Baptist church Thursday and Friday nights on phrenology, in which science he is said to be very proficient.

NEW BUTCHER SHOP.—Capt. Julian Vest has returned to Stanford and will open up a butcher shop in the H. Pendleton rooms on Lancaster street. Mrs. Vest is ill at present, but will remove here as soon as she recovers.

THE long-needed rain began to fall gently at noon yesterday and the prospect at this writing is that the backbone of the drought will be broken. Farmers tell us, though, that it is too late to make more than half a crop of corn in this section.

WHILE John Wallace was riding Porter Stagg's young horse, Friday, the animal reared up and falling back, caught the boy under him, mashing him seriously about the head and body and it is thought internally. He was doing well yesterday, though not out of danger.

FRANK PARSONS, an L. & N. brakeman, fell from a freight near tunnel No. 1 Saturday night and cut his face and head very badly. Dr. Peyton thought at first that his skull had been fractured, but on closer examination it was found that the wounds, though very severe, did not reach the bone.

SHOT.—While fooling with a pistol, Tom Gill, the 14-year-old son of John Gill, of Neal's Creek, shot himself in the bowels and the ball had not been located at last accounts. The boy had only been up a few weeks from a long siege with a broken leg. It was thought at one time yesterday that he was dying but he rallied. The chances are decidedly against his recovery.

THE Old Fellows are ready to erect their contemplated building on the old Commercial Hotel site, and if they can agree with Mr. M. F. Elkin as to his lease they will begin tearing the old eyesore down at once. Mr. Elkin tells us that he will not stand in the way of progress and is willing to do what is fair. The matter will be settled at lodge meeting to-night and everybody hopes it will be in favor of the building.

JUDGE VARNON held a special term of the county court yesterday and appointed John Bright for the South End, J. M. Carter for the West End and Judge W. O. Hansford for the East End to divide the county into magisterial districts, as provided under the new constitution. No county can have less than three nor more than eight districts, with only one magistrate for each district. This county has eight districts now, with 16 magistrates.

THE wagon containing trunks of Mrs. Will Moreland and Mrs. P. W. Green, together with those of an Owensboro lady, were overturned in Cumberland river and all their nice dresses were ruined. The Stanford ladies lost about $100 each and they had to return home while the Owensboro lady claims damages to the amount of $500 for which she will sue. The transfer line belongs to Parker and not to Messrs. Weatherford & Cook we are glad to say.

ECHOES FROM THE FIRE.

J. M. Sibold lost two Singer sewing machines in the fire.

Robt. S. Lytle lost a phaeton and harness in Bruce's stable worth $125.

Mr. John S. Wells lost a number of valuable papers, his chemical apparatus, &c., worth to him $50 or more.

THE owners are already having the brick of the burned houses cleaned and stacked preparatory to rebuilding.

Poor old Bay Dixie, probably the best known livery horse that ever felt the lash of the merciless driver, was one of the horses that perished in the flames.

THE adjusters have been at work on W. B. McRoberts' loss, but it oughtn't to require much time to see that it was nearly complete. He had $3,000 in the Springfield and Etina.

THE brick walls of the burned buildings must have been very poorly constructed. Nearly all of them have fallen tho' some attribute it to the several powder explosions in McRoberts and Foster's stores.

The reporter who worked us on the item about Mrs. B. J. C. Howe was promptly discharged. She was not carrying water in the Opera House or anywhere else. Her husband and son did enough work for the entire family.

Although Mack Huffman held $3,200 insurance, in the Lancashire and Etina, the adjusters decline so far to pay him more than $1,414, as they say that is his full loss. He thinks otherwise and was engaged yesterday in finding out what the actual loss is. He paid over $80 to colored people to help move what goods he saved.

Not a single thing was left in the stores of Messrs. D. W. Vandever, S. H. Shanks and McRoberts & Higgins, but by the night of the day of the fire they had all their goods, worth replacing, in position again and fixed for business. McRoberts & Higgins were the quickest to get in shape and their store now bears but little appearance of the rough shaking up it had.

Mr. J. B. Foster does not think there will be any trouble in adjusting his losses with the insurance companies. His stock was recently invoiced at $8,000 and he held $5,000 insurance on it. He saved $1,216 worth of goods and lost 11 Studebaker wagons and many other things, which were not insured. If the companies pay him the full amount of insurance, his loss will be fully $3,000 over and above it.

Walton's Opera House seems worse damaged than was at first thought. The heavy fire wall was badly cracked and sprung and may have to be taken down. It surely will if experts pronounce it unsafe, as the proprietor does not propose to have any doubt of the safety of the building. It is insured in the Royal, which has telegraphed its agent here, Mr. W. A. Tribble, to agree with us on any fair assessment of damages.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—The union service will be at the Baptist church next Sunday night and will be conducted by Rev. A. V. Sizemore.

—There are 29 churches in the county and 22 Sunday-schools, enrolling 200 officers and teachers and 1,650 scholars, making a total of 1,850 engaged in Sunday-school work.—Woodford Sun.

—MRS. SUE GRUNDY HOWELL, who has frequently visited Mrs. W. P. Tate, died at Nashville Saturday.

—MRS. Maria Lair, the last but one of Judge Tom Varnon's brothers and sisters, died Sunday, aged 64.

—A row boat containing eight boys was overturned in the Kentucky river, near Arlen, Sunday, and six of them drowned.

—The great race between Axtell and Allerton is practically off. C. W. Williams has received word from Bud Doble that Axtell is not in condition to start and will be returned to his quarters at Terre Haute.
